

FLAG WAVING SOLVES NOTHING

Too many people have lost sight of the fact that the fundamental principles of our government remain just the same in spite of defiance of many established laws by the present office holders in Washington. It is not yet a crime to criticize our president. He is not a deity, but a very shrewd politician, who has been elected President by the vote of the people, and he is subject to criticism of any person who can talk and has anything to say. He is subject to impeachment—improbable, doubtless, but none the less a possible fact. Public sentiment is a fickle thing. Today's hero can be tomorrow's most despised citizen.

This maudlin sentiment some have that we must cheer every time the President's name is mentioned and yell "yes, yes, yes," every time some crack-brained scheme is advanced by some nitwit in Washington only diverts attention from the issue at hand and obstructs real progress.

The President with almost the solid support of every citizen has tried many notable experiments, tried everything in every way in a sincere effort to force prosperity into the life of the nation. Not the least effort has been the expenditure of TEN BILLION DOLLARS of money borrowed from the people. Anti-trust laws have been suspended to the undreamed enrichment of big interests. The people have been given liquor under conditions that make bootlegging more lucrative than before and good liquor harder to get.

And the government, never at any time in history, able to operate its own affairs efficiently and keep both ends meeting is meddling and attempting to run every business from the umbrella mender's to the railroads.

A little good has come from this huge expenditure of money and vast amount of meddling, but other nations have worked out their troubles WITHOUT IT. There is a growing sentiment that NRA is actually impeding progress. Speaking from our own small business, NRA is the most pernicious, devastating thing in business today.

WHAT ABOUT THE LIBRARY?

Now is the time to do your thinking about the library. Do not wait until the June meeting of the council and make statements which you can not back up by facts. The library board will present their report the first meeting in July, tell where last year's money was spent and ask for the amount for the coming year. The council desires to know what the citizens wish, and if talk is any indication of their wishes, they will ask for the continuance of operating efficiency. While the library is a part of the state system, it is nevertheless controlled by the council through the budget.

Our library is out of the ordinary for a town the size of Carmel. Many people have come here for the summer in preference to other places on account of its facilities. These questions you must consider: Do I want the library open a shorter number of hours? Do I want fewer workers, even though it causes many important things to remain undone? Would I like to see the library closed for two months of the year and operated efficiently the other ten?

When the budget was first made, the limit of taxation was set at 3 mills. The present tax is 2.1 mills. Do not confuse mills and cents.

Councilman Catlin has suggested a district be formed taking in Carmel's surrounding neighborhoods, taking the budgeting from the hands of the council. Would you favor this, even though it would mean the election instead of the appointment of the library board?

It is to be hoped that the June meeting will progress in a sane and orderly manner without the usual suggestions coming from those who have given the matter no thought.

YOUNG ARTISTS SHOULD COULTIVATE

PERSONALITY

If any person in the world needs a charming, likeable personality it is the artist and particularly the young one. It is such a common experience to visit art exhibitions and find one or more of the exhibiting artists present and for some curious reason strutting about wearing a haughty, unapproachable keep-your-distance expression. The difference between success and failure in any activity rests with trifles and the deciding factor is generally one of personality. A friendly smile and sympathetic or at least polite attention to people at art exhibitions would mean many valuable contacts.

The successful people are not those who have the bearing of a peacock and the disposition of a snapping turtle but quite the contrary and are invariably courteous, generally extremely charming and simple people. In Carmel there are so many examples of the two extremes—the struggling young artist bending every effort toward success and yet poisoning a career with conceit. An outstanding example of success is Michel Penha, whose musicianship is equalled by possibly not more than three in the world, and yet, Penha is as friendly as a stray bird dog. On the street he is just one of many people milling about at ordinary tasks and chores. And there is Wm. B. Silva, a painter who needs no listing of his great achievements. Anyone who has ever met Mr. Silva has a lasting impression of simplicity. He is never too busy to point out the features he likes best in his own pictures or the faults of the worst daub that any beginner can turn out.

It hasn't been so long since Carmel had the amusing experience of seeing a very promising musician nearly spoil an interesting program by indulging in endless "airs" and affectations.

It simply doesn't pay. Those who love music know what to look for without any emphasis by the musicians as to their own greatness. The young painter's picture is much less beautiful if the observer meets a supercilious artist. And it is a well known fact that writers too vain

"DANGEROUS CORNER"

COMMUNITY PLAYERS'

PRODUCTION NEXT WEEK

It is Wednesday evening of next week, May 30, when the Community Players open their play in the Denny-Watrous Gallery, to run for four nights, up to and including Saturday evening, June 2.

Gordon Davis, for ten years director of the Stanford University Little Theatre, for two and one-half years director of the Detroit Civic theatre, and director last season of the Fairmont Hotel Little Theatre, has been secured to direct the play, and a splendid piece of work he is doing with it. Gordon Davis has the ability to make his actors act, to make them so live their parts that emotionally they are feeling and reacting to every stimulus conveyed in the lines.

The play, "Dangerous Corner," a drama in three acts, by J. B. Priestley, is admirably adapted for presentation on the small Gallery stage. With one set, a living room, where seven people, a group of friends who outwardly are happy and "everyday sort of people," suddenly run into a "dangerous corner" and very nearly end in utter wreck, the play unfolds intimately before the Gallery audience as to a group of innocent onlookers who quite casually have stumbled in to their friends' private lives.

"Dangerous Corner" combines all the elements of an exciting mystery play with the finesse of a very sophisticated Coward play. Channing Pollock said of it, "...I have been going to the theatre more than thirty-five years. In that time I suppose I have read or seen six or seven thousand plays. I can remember few as interesting as 'Dangerous Corner.'"

The Community Players have supplied a brilliant cast. Olga Fish plays Maud Mockridge, the novelist, Paula Dougherty, the difficult role of Olwen Peel, secretary to the publishers; Freda Chaffield, Robert's wife, is revealed with great emotional intensity by Ruth Thompson; Mary Henderson, always appealing, since her first appearance as a child in "Liliom," is Betty, Gordon's wife; Byington Ford plays the subtle role of Charles Stanton, one of the publishers; Bud Mills plays the hysterical, emotional Gordon Whitehouse; Freda's brother; and Lloyd Weer does a convincing piece of work as Robert Chaffield, head of the publishing firm.

Tickets for this intensely interesting production are now on sale at the Denny-Watrous Gallery and at Stanford's Drug Store.

A. C. Lafrenz and Hallie Samson will spend tomorrow in San Francisco, transacting business.

In the display of their unattractive faces with their writings have hurt the popularity of their product.

All of which simmers down to the short statement that "Little people do not do big things."

PERSISTENT ADVERTISERS GET THE BUSINESS

Tell any person he is sick and repeat it a few times and he generally gets sick. The advertiser who hammers away week after week that his store is the best place to trade soon has a lot of good customers who agree with him. Advertising always pays, if not directly, indirectly and the man who does advertise is the one whose business is always prosperous.

DRUNKEN DRIVERS INCREASE DEATH TOLL

Of course there was more drinking during prohibition days than when we had wide open saloons, but during the first three months of this year deaths due to automobile accidents INCREASED 26 PER CENT over the same period last year. Chief Raymond Cato, of the State Highway Patrol, says the increase is due entirely to the number of drunks driving cars on the highway. And yet there are people who insist the drunken drivers arrested should be handled with leniency and in fact, many judges are doing so. A drunken driver should get not less than a year in the penitentiary and any judge who refuses to punish a drunken driver is disgusting, a disgrace to the community and should be given a year himself.

PREMIER OF FLAVIN'S

NEW PLAY TO BE HERE

During the third week of July the Golden Bough Players, under Edward Kuster's direction, will present "Sunday," Martin Flavin's new play; for the first time on any stage. The producer is seeking hitherto undiscovered peninsula talent in the casting of the production, and will welcome suggestions.

"The Mother of Gregory," for the production of which the Golden Bough Players recently won first prize in the San Francisco tournament, will be presented at the Community Playhouse the last week-end in June, together with Sudermann's "Fritschen" and a comedy yet to be selected.

BOOK NOOK OFFERS

The Book Nook has a fifty-cent coupon in Carmel Sun by which you may save that amount on your magazine subscription if it amounts to $2.50 or more.

Carmel people will be glad to know that they can now purchase lime, cement, brick and chalkrock from the Plaza Fuel company, Messrs. Catlin and Evans having enlarged their line to include these items.

HOSPITAL FUND NOW

HAS REACHED $14,000

The sum of money to be raised to make the Grace Deere Velle clinic into a community hospital keeps growing steadily and now has reached the $14,000 mark. Workers are confident of securing the necessary $25,000 within the time limit.

With Mrs. Montmorency as the guest of honor the Parent-Teacher association will give a tea this afternoon in the first grade room.

Mrs. Leginson and Mrs. Taylor will pour and the pupils of Sunset will furnish entertainment.

CARMEL MUSIC SOCIETY

GETTING UNDER WAY

Much activity is now under way for the summer session of the Carmel Music Society, which will open June 26 with Winifred Christie, pianist, playing the Moor double keyboard piano, followed on July 10 by the Penha Piano quartet, comprising Penha, Linsley, Weiss and Norman. On July 24, the quartet will make another appearance, and on August 27, the Monterey Peninsula orchestra will entertain. There will also be two children's matinees, the date to be announced later. The last number of the season will be the Penha Piano Quartet.

Season tickets will sell for $5.00 and student tickets for $2.50.

Subscribers for the summer series are not only giving their support and backing to this community enterprise but are helping to preserve the cultural and spiritual values which make Carmel what it is.

Due to the fact that the Penha Piano Quartet has made Carmel its summer rehearsal headquarters, the Carmel Music Society has been able to arrange for a number of open rehearsals. These will be open to season ticket holders on presentation of a rehearsal card and 10 cents. Non-members 25 cents. Open quartet rehearsals on Tuesday evenings, alternating with concert beginning June 12. Open orchestra rehearsals Sunday evenings. All rehearsals in Denny-Watrous gallery.

On the announcements being sent out the following description is given:

"In the heart of a pine forest, bounded by hill, valley and sea, the little village of Carmel-by-the-Sea has long been famous for its writers and painters, its Forest Theater and Little Theater groups. In 1927, the Carmel Music Society was founded, and since that time Carmel has become more and more a center and a workshop for music. Musicians of international renown choose it as a summer vacation spot, and students from all parts of the state find in it opportunity amid ideal surroundings for advanced study. Even the children have their own string quartets and are becoming the chamber music audience of the future through their attendance upon the open rehearsals of the Penha Piano Quartet and the Monterey Peninsula Orchestra."

V.F.W. WILL SELL BUDDY

POPPIES NEXT SATURDAY

The V.F.W. post and auxiliary of Monterey will sell "Buddy Poppies" Saturday, May 26, the money to be used for relief and welfare activities, one cent of each sale going to the home for veterans' widows and orphans at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

The poppies are made by disabled veterans and four cents from each sale goes back to the maker.

Mrs. C. L. Berkeley, with her daughter and son, Nadine and Moylan Fox, has gone East for a vacation trip. The trio left in their car Friday to go by the way of the southern states through the Grand Canyon, and Yellowstone Park, then on to New York City. After two weeks spent in the city, they will board a ship and return home by way of the Panama canal.

Mayor James H. Thoburn, P. A. McCreery and Acton Hall spent Wednesday fishing in the Big Sur about 8 miles off the highway. Each caught his limit, and after a lot of climbing, all need crutches to get around.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Markham and daughter, Miss Betty, of Montague, were visitors in Carmel for a short time Wednesday, driving down to see the points of interest.

EXAMINATION FOR CHILD

OF PRE-SCHOOL AGE

The regular summer round-up of children of pre-school age for examination is now under way. All who have small children are urged to bring them to the Sunset school office Thursday morning, May 31, at 9 o'clock. Parents should not neglect this opportunity as to do so may mean that their child starts school with a handicap.

STEINBECK ANNOUNCES

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

J. E. Steinbeck, treasurer of Monterey county, has formally announced his candidacy for re-election.

A resident of Monterey county since 1886 and of Salinas since 1900, Steinbeck was appointed to the office of treasurer in 1925 by the supervisors to reorganize the treasury at a time when it was disorganized. He has brought about a high degree of efficiency in the county's financial business, his friends point out.

He was reelected over two opponents in 1926 and returned to office without opposition in 1930. During 135 months of Steinbeck's incumbency, $28,795,389.35 has been received by the treasury, according to figures from the county auditor's office.

Through careful and judicious moving of the money, Steinbeck said, his office has earned in interest for the county $300,560, or $16,000 more than enough to pay the combined salaries of superior judge, county clerk, recorder, tax collector, county superintendent of schools, surveyor, treasurer, assessor, auditor and coroner. "These salaries have been made in interest on public money and without one cent of cost to the taxpayers."

During Steinbeck's incumbency, his followers point out, the office of treasurer has been conducted efficiently and courteously. Ray Talley of Salinas, a man with three years of banking experience, is the efficient deputy to the treasurer.

In submitting his name for re-election, Steinbeck intends to continue the county's business in that way, he said.

A photograph of Mr. Steinbeck will appear later, the one Carmel Sun has on hand being damaged.

A. W. Kelley, with Montgomery Ward and Company of Chicago, with his family is spending six weeks in the Lawrence cottage on Dolores.

BOY SCOUTS TO STAY AT NEW BIG SUR CAMP

The new Boy Scout camp at Big Sur will be called Camp Wing, in honor of Charles B. Wing, whose cooperation made the site available. The state has set aside for the Boy Scouts a site in the Big Sur park that is ideal for scout purposes, warm, sunny, out of the fog belt, private, ideal swimming facilities, hiking and trail trips.

The 42 troops of the council will camp this year under a new arrangement that requires each troop to furnish one adult leader for every 16 scouts, camping on a troop basis. Each troop furnishes its own cooking and camping equipment, each scout bearing a proportionate share of the cost.

The only charge made by the council will be a registration fee of 15 cents or $1.00 a week for each scout. This fee provides in part for the special council advisory leadership, and other operating costs of the camp. This economical arrangement reduces cost to each scout to one-half of what it was in previous years.

The council will maintain a senior camp staff for the entire period covering four weeks, from June 17 to July 15, consisting of a camp director, naturalist, waterfront safety man, and scoutcraft director, in addition to a junior staff of older scouts. Every activity of the scouts will be carefully checked and supervised by this specially trained staff.

Directors of the council's division of operators in charge of camping arrangements for this district is Everett Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Frisbee, parents of Ann Harding, who recently purchased a lot on Carmel Point, will build a residence there. Upon its completion, they will make their home here. They are at present vacationing at Grand Canyon.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

The following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "The material body and mind are temporal, but the real man is spiritual and eternal. The identity of the real man is not lost, but found through this explanation; for the conscious infinitude of existence and of all identity is thereby discerned and remains unchanged... Man's true consciousness is in the mental, not in any bodily or personal likeness to Spirit" (p. 302).

WARM SPRING PRESENTS PROBLEM TO HOUSEWIFE

The unusually warm weather prevailing throughout the state of California this spring has presented a serious problem to the housewife whose domestic establishment is lacking proper equipment for the preservation of food supplies.

Unless perishable foods can be kept in a wholesome and fresh condition, the food budget suffers. So does the housewife. Her marketing becomes difficult for she must buy from hand to mouth. She also misses the joy of being able to prepare her dinner in the cool of the morning, as she would easily do if she could safely store her meats, salads and desserts through the hotter hours of the day.

Here is where refrigeration comes in. Furthermore, the most efficient form of refrigeration is available without trouble and at very moderate expense to any electrically equipped household. For, the electric refrigerator is the last word in scientific development.

Like most labor saving devices that are designed to lift the burden of drudgery from housework the electric refrigerator is automatically controlled. All the housewife has to do is to adjust the apparatus to the required temperature and the refrigerator does the rest. It maintains the temperature unaffected by the changes in the outside atmosphere. It is not only economical to operate but it is a money-saver. By eliminating the food waste caused by spoiling and making it possible for the housewife to take advantage of bargains in food by buying in quantities and it will more than pay for itself in quite a reasonable time.

Firestone LEADERSHIP

"The Ultimate Test of Leadership is Performance"

FIRESTONE has maintained its leadership in tire development by producing a new tire for 1934 with a wider tread, flatter contour, deeper non-skid, greater thickness, and more and tougher rubber, which gives greater non-skid safety, more traction, greater blowout protection, and more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

These achievements are made practical by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping, providing greater adhesion between the piles of the high stretch cords and between the Gum-Dipped body of the tire and the tough, massive non-skid tread. It also provides greater strength, longer lasting life, and greater protection against blowouts.

Carmel Visitor Shows Talent In Sculptoring at Clay Modeling Class

It must have been a grand and glorious feeling! Can you imagine wanting vaguely to do something all your life and then all at once to find out what it was?

Mrs. J. A. Porter of Lebanon, Oregon is "just a farmer's wife" according to her own description but she came down to Carmel a few months ago to visit friends and "see how the artists work." She secured work at the Forest Hill School and decided to attend Ernest Calley's class in pottery making at Sunset last Monday night a week ago.

Mrs. Porter took a lump of clay in her hands. Then it came to her—the old urge, and swiftly and deftly she fashioned a female figurine seated and reading a book. It was the first time she had worked with clay, but you would never know it from the results.

Excitement reigned at the class. A member had produced a masterpiece. The others crowded about. They marveled. Mrs. Porter must show her statuette to Jo Mora. He would know.

Mrs. Porter did show her model to Jo Mora and Mora assured her that she had the "feeling" and that she had wonderful talent. He urged her to get technical training as soon as possible.

Mrs. Porter says she is anxious to make a model of her son, 29, who is a weight lifter. She also has a son 34.

We add this just to show you that she has passed the first bloom of youth.

PEGGY CONVERSE MAKES HIT IN SAN FRANCISCO

Sunday's San Francisco Examiner has the following to say of Peggy Converse, who has been such a favorite with Carmel theatre goers. Miss Converse recently appeared in "Good Fairy" at the Community Playhouse: "If you fall in love with Peggy Converse, blonde charmer of 'The Drunkard' company at the Palace Hotel, don't blame it on yourself. Peggy, who has the femme lead in the creaky old melodrama has a habit of making those out front get that way about her. The play, which is served with beer and pretzels, starts its third week Monday night.

Well known in San Francisco, Miss Converse started her theatrical career on the Stanford University campus. Since she has played stock up and down the coast and has appeared in a number of Eastern hits. And incidentally Peg is one of the few young ladies ever to sniff at a movie contract. Friends took her to the studio when she visited Hollywood lately and a keen-eyed supervisor urged a test be taken of her. Miss Converse simply laughed at the man. The stage she loves. Thus a break for "The Drunkard" company and San Francisco."

WILLIAM P. SILVA IS ENLARGING ART GALLERY

William P. Silva, the artist, is making quite an improvement in his gallery by the addition of an entrance way and by building an arbor where if his guests wish they may have their tea served out doors.

Mr. Silva said, "If anyone wishes to smoke in the gallery, they may smoke out here" in showing where he was going to build the outdoor nook.

The Tuesday and Thursday showings at the gallery are proving quite popular and many guests come those days who could not come at any other time.

LAST HALF MILE ROAD SOON TO BE OPENED

With only a half mile of the route not yet touched, the Carmel-San Simeon highway is nearing completion. Crews at the north and south ends will probably cut through and meet within the next two months.

Although the highway will be completed before that time, the official opening has been set for February 22, 1935. The officials feel that the road should not be opened to the public until all danger from slides has passed and the fills have had time to settle.

Surfacing and grading will begin at that end as soon as the last cut is finished.

OLD MISSION GUILD TO HOLD REGULAR PARTY

It will be well to reserve the date of June 5 for the Whist party to be given at the Serra Crespi hall by the Old Mission Guild. Many nice prizes will be given the skillful.

 Jack Martin spent last week-end with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Roy Martin. This is probably the last time he will be home before leaving Berkeley on May 31 for Poughkeepsie where he will row with the U.C. crew on June 16. Jack was recently honored when he was elected Commodore on the U. C. rowing club for the coming year. On June 20 Jack will go to New Haven where he will take a naval cruise with the University of Yale students as a part of his R.O.T.C. work. The cruise will take about three weeks and will take them along the Atlantic seacoast to Florida and back.

They have quite a frontage on the river and there is a lovely swimming hole. The Stewarts plan to spend most of the summer there.

Little Joy Melrose will spend the summer with her aunt in Pacific Grove, and will leave about the first of June.

Barnet Segal was transacting business in San Francisco the first of the week.

Mrs. F. C. Price, Jr., and Mrs. Larry Dougherty of Palo Alto are in Carmel for a month or six weeks looking after the Forest Hill school in the absence of Mrs. Harper who is quite ill in a hospital in San Francisco.

COURT REPORTER DIES IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Harold S. Packer, county superior court reporter, Salinas, was killed almost instantly about five o'clock Sunday morning when the car in which he was riding smashed head on into a car driven by Frank Cornell, Jr., of Salinas, in the center of Toro dridge.

Packer was accompanied by Lionel Joy, deputy county clerk, who was seriously injured. The two were on their way to San Clemente dam on a fishing trip. Cornell, alone, was returning home from a dance.

It is believed that Cornell fell asleep at the wheel since his car was found to be on the wrong side of the road. He was not seriously injured.

A man who was visiting here for the first time in was asked if he found the place changed. "Well," he said, "the ocean hasn't changed."

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Dobbel of Palo Alto were week-end guests in Carmel.

Mrs. M. C. Coesh and daughter of Berkeley spent the week-end in the DeYoe cottage.

Ernest W. Aldrich was taken before Judge Wood on a charge of obstructing traffic when he left his car in the street on Carpenter. He was given a fine of $10.

THE SPIRIT OF FATHER SERRA

I watched the Serra Pilgrimage
Winding from Monterey,
Thousands stopped in their hurried flight
To watch—and some to pray.

Some saw only a festive crowd
In Spanish garments gay,
But some saw a Spanish priest,
Who silently led the way.

Some of the marchers looked worn and spent
Some trifling, light and gay,
But some felt the presence of the Spanish priest,
Who silently led the way.

He walked with downcast head and slow,
Then stopped awhile to pray,
At the shrines of the master he served so long
On the road from Monterey.

Some saw only a festive crowd,
In Spanish garments gay,
But I saw a spirit—a Spanish priest,
Who silently led the way.
